Stories told by migrants

J. C. 24 y.o.

I had just arrived in Bulgaria, when this story happened.
I was seated in a city bus and a lady of gipsy origin got on the bus at a bus stop. There were no free seats,
So I stood up and offered her my seat.
There were voices of surprise.
It is difficult to live in a society full of prejudices.
In the end, we are all humans.
